At its center stands the impressive equestrian statue of San Martín, symbolizing Peru's independence. Today, the square is part of Lima's Historic Center, a UNESCO World Heritage Site, and remains a vibrant cultural, historical, and tourist meeting point that captures the essence of the "City of Kings."

The Main Square of Lima

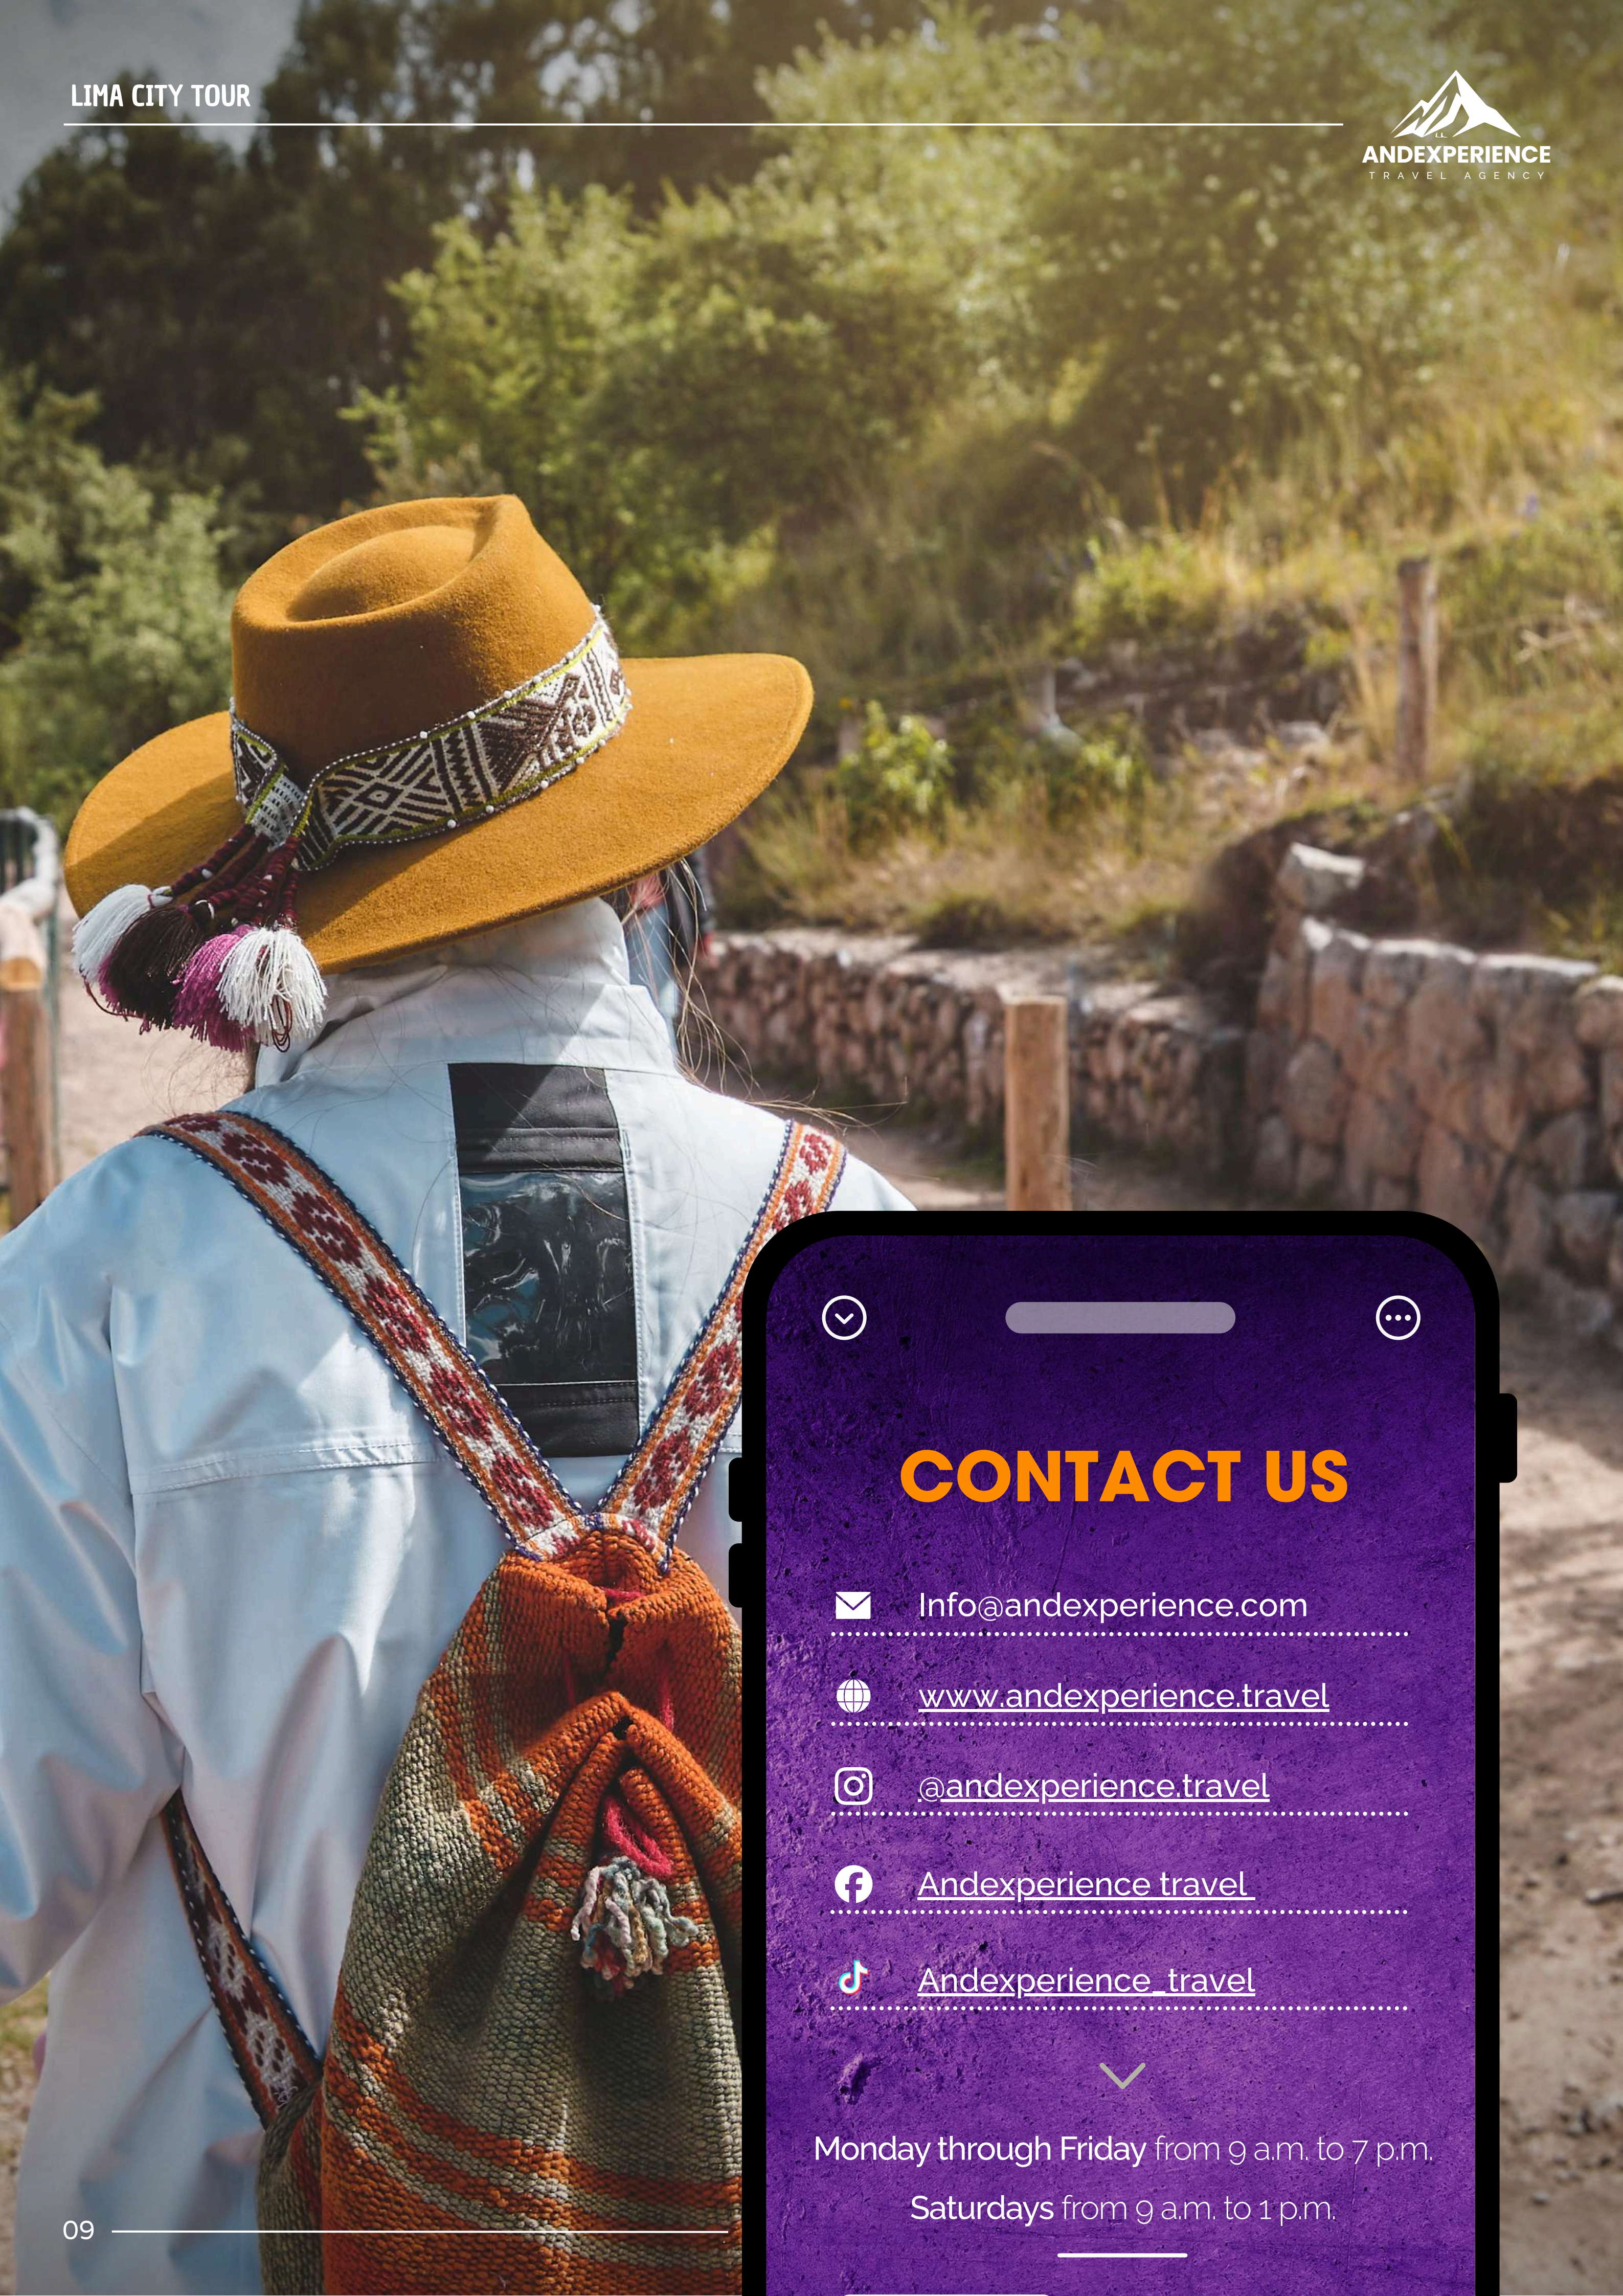

The Main Square of Lima, also known as the Plaza de Armas, is where Francisco Pizarro founded the city in 1535, making it the political and religious heart of the former Viceroyalty of Peru. Surrounding the square are the Government Palace, the Cathedral of Lima, the Archbishop's Palace, and the Municipal Palace, all reflecting centuries of history and power. At its center stands a bronze fountain dating back to 1651, one of the oldest in South America. Today, as part of Lima's Historic Center, declared a UNESCO World Heritage Site, it remains a proud symbol of the city's identity and tradition.

The Monastery of San Francisco

The Monastery of San Francisco in Lima is one of the most important colonial art landmarks in the country. It stands out for its large church, its cloisters decorated with tiles, its ancient library, and its catacombs. Inside, you can find valuable paintings and a unique Last Supper mural with Andean elements. Located in Lima's Historic Center, it invites visitors to explore the history and art of the viceregal era.

Church of Santo Domingo

The Church and Convent of Santo Domingo of Lima, built shortly after the city's founding in 1535, is one of the oldest and most representative temples in Peru. It stands out for its impressive 40-meter tower, its architecture blending Renaissance, Baroque, and Neoclassical styles, and its beautiful cloisters adorned with Sevillian tiles. Inside lie the remains of Saint Rose of Lima, Saint Martin de Porres, and Saint John Macías, the country's patron saints.
